BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 17.-The University of Michigan ball team was defeated by the Indiana University team by a score of 11 to 10 to-day. Ann Arbor expected an easy thing, but Indiana jumped on to Miller in the first inning and kept up the good work throughout the game. Dailey pitched well for Indiana and was only hit hard in one inning. Before the game Michigan treated the home team like farmer boys, but soon saw that they had met more than their match. Michigan killed time from start to finish. Game was not called until 4:30 and darkness stopped the game in the seventh inning. The visiting team was ragged throughout the game, seemed to be puffed up and was much surprised that their reputation as kickers did not help them. FORT WAYNE TO-DAY.

Cleveland's "Farm" Will Put Up a Stiff Game Against Watkins. The Fort Wayne baseball team comes here to-day with the avowed purpose of defeating Indianapolis. The Fort Wayne team is composed of extra players of the Cleveland team and so wonderful has been their success that the good people of Fort Wayne have commenced to think that a place in the National League is deserved. It is conceded that Fort Wayne has a team much better than many minor league nines and if the game of this afternoon is not interesting it will be started in driving the version and carnisis into the Republican party, where they belonged. He made a daring, courageous and very bitter speech, and was applauded vociferously. At the end of his harangue every man in the audience raised his right hand to indicate

The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock. Yesterday the players were put through five hours' hard work and all the cricks and soreness was worked out of Roat's arm is getting well and he will be ready to play short by next Wednesday, when the season opens with Detroit here. Those who have seen Buckley at practice do not observe that his arm is altogether gone. He throws to bases with his old-time accuracy and otherwise his playing is the very best.

LAST GAME OF BILLIARDS AT BOS-TON THE BEST OF THE SERIES.

Schaefer Was the Favorite and Had a Good Chance to Win Near the Close-Score 300 to 284.

BOSTON, Mass., April 17.-Frank Ives won the closing game and the championship in the second series of the international billiards to-night, defeating "Jake" Schaefer 300 to 284. Bumstead Hall, which has been the Mecca for billiard enthusiasts during the week, was crowded to its utmost capacity for the closing game of the series. Both Schaefer and Ives had each two victories to their credit and to-night's game decided the championship. Schaefer was the favorite with the majority of the spectators and his defeat was a great disappointment. His playing was by no means up to the standard. Frequently he had the game well in hand, but would slip up on comparatively easy shots. Ives played a cool, careful game throughout, and only in the last innings did he manifest any nerv-

The game was opened by Schaefer, who won the bank, but failed to score. Schaefer's work with the cue at times revealed seeming impossibilities and a world of science in the curves of the ivories, but he failed to increase his string materially until the seventh inning. In the thirty-third inning he manifested his old-time ability and got in a few good runs, which led his friends to feel more buoyant. Ives's work was of the careful sort that saved all his positions in-tact by means of a feather-edged touch, and his luck in counting was again manifest. When Schaefer was 279 and Ives 282 the spectators were worked up to a high pitch, and the hoped-for run would have landed Schaefer a winner, but in seven innings he only added five to the score. Ives got the ivories, however, in his favorite corner and wound up with a flourish. Summary:

special to the Indianapolis Journal. WICHITA, Kan., April 17 .- The people of this city had a surfeit of circuses to-day. Bond Bros. gave an exhibition this afternoon, and at the close of the show-about 4 o'clock-turned the tent over to the Populists, who proceeded to exhibit "Pitchfork" Tillman, of South Carolina. Ex-Governor Lewelling acted as ringmaster and introduced the Senator to the crowd. The South Carolinian made the reddest and the hottest speech ever heard here. He said that the Republicans who voted for Cleveland for a change jumped from the frying pan into the fire, and that it was the hottest fire they ever saw. Further along he said Cleveland was a tin god and an animal with a cloven foot. He said that Carlisle was so deep in infamy that he did not want to speak about him. The people fairly went wild when he said that no man could be appointed to the Supreme Court unless he was known to be friendly to the corporations. He said that if the Democratic convention at Chicago did not declare for free silver he would pick up his hat and leave the party. He was especially bitter against the lawyers in Congress, and did not hesitate to say that while many of them were paid by the people, they were paid better by the corporations, and worked for those who paid them best. He appealed to the Populists to vote for the Democratic party if it declared for free silver, and suc-ceeded in driving Cleveland and Carlisle into

NOTED PLUNGER DEAD

EDWARD PARDRIDGE, CHICAGO'S GREATEST SPECULATOR IN WHEAT.

Famous for His Nerve in Manipulating the Market-A Victim of Bright's Disease-Death of John Stetson.

CHICAGO, April 17 .- Edward Pardridge, one of the most prominent and wealthiest operators on the Board of Trade, died o Bright's disease to-day, after several weeks' illness. Dissolution was not unexpected, and the dying man was surrounded by members of his household. He leaves a widow, three daughters and two sons, all grown. His fortune is said to have been divided among them some days ago.

Mr. Pardridge was about fifty-four years of age. He was a native of the State of New Pittsburg. ... 0 0 0 2 3 0 1 1 3-10 13 5

Batteries—Dwyer, Vaughn and Peitz; Killen and Sugden. Earned runs—Cincinnati, 4: Pittsburg, 5. Two-base hits—Dwyer, Millen and Sugden. Ely. Three-base hits—Ely. Three-base hits— York. Early in the seventies he came to manner, he staked great sums on his individual judgment with an abandon that was appalling to his rivals. B. P. Hutchinson, known in speculative circles at "Old Hutch." once said to Pardridge that he was the nervlest man on the short side of the market that ever traded in grain. Yet there was none of the characteristics of the "plunger" in Pardridge's appearance. He dressed plainly, almost slovenly. He never attracted notice in a crowd, and the casual observer would take him for a country grocer rather than for e great speculator.

Mr. Pardridge's specialty was wheat. It was no uncommon thing for him to deal in three million to five million bushels in one day. On one memorable occasion he was short 15,000,000 bushels. Pardridge's name was on every lip. Was he to meet a Waterloo, or was he to bag the biggest game of his career? Up the market soared 5, 8 and even 10 cents; still the little Napoleon of the bears stood out on a great part of the 15,000,000. He instinctively anticipated a rapid decline in the bolstered market. It came, and so sharply that no cover was left to the bulls. Pardridge made more money thereby than any man had ever before taken out of the market under similar circumstances in Chicago. The "plunger's" gains in one year were estimated by conservative operators to have reached the total of $1,500,-000. Almost equally large were his losses, approaching the $600,000 or $800,000 mark in certain memorable squeezes. His income from selling privileges ranged from $2,000 to $3.000 a day. At one time he sold calls on 5,000,000 bushels of wheat, for which he received $5,000. Much of Pardridge's surplus in fortunate periods was safely invested in choice real estate. A short time ago he sold his State-street property, near Madison street, for over $600,000. John Stetson. BOSTON, April 18 John Stetson, the well-known theatrical manager, died at 1:30

His last illness dates from last Tuesday evening, when he was taken with a chill. Nothing serious was looked for, however, until Thursday night, when pneumonia developed of so acute a form as to require the constant attendance at his bedside of his physician, which state of affairs continued until his death.

The most important business connections of Mr. Stetson began about thirty-five years ago, when he became connected with the Boston Police News and Boston Job Print, which concerns he was instrumental in placwhich concerns he was instrumental in placing on a solid financial basis. Later he became the proprietor of the Howard Atheneum, in this city. His next theatrical venture was as owner and manager of the Boston Globe Theater, where appeared the most prominent theatrical stars and companies visiting this country. He was associated with Iting this country. He was associated with Isaac Rich in certain ventures, and managed many stars throughout the United States, such as Salvini the elder, Mary Anderson, Bernhardt on her first visit here and companies presenting "The Mikado" and several other Gilbert and Sull' on operas. For many popular operas he held American rights, and made a large fortune. On the burning of the Globe Theater Mr. Statson secural respective Globe Theater Mr. Stetson secured possession of the Park Theater, which he retained up to the time of his death, building on the site of the old Globe Theater the magnificent Savoy Hotel, which has just been opened.

Baron De Grimm's Career. NEW YORK, April 16.-Baron Constantine de Grim, who died yesterday of pneumonia, had no medical attendance up to Sunday, though he had been ill for two weeks. He had always boasted that he had never required the services of a physician, and his aversion to them was one of his eccentricities. De Grimm was one of the best cartoonists of the times. During the last presidential campaign his pencil was employed by the Democratic national committee to help secure the election of Cleveland, and the work he did at that time attracted much attention. De Grimm was born in 1845, at St. Petersburg. His father was a habitue of the court of Nicholas I, charged with the education of Alexander II, and his brothers and their children, Alexander III and his brothers. Young Grimm studied in Germany, and was grad uated from the universities of Berlin an Heidelberg. In 1868, then an officer of the Guards of Potsdam, a crack Prussian corps, he was noted for dash and brilliancy, leading up to such superbity as to earn a decoration of the Iron Cross on the battlefield of St. Privat la Montague (Grave-lotte), on the 18th of August, 1870. In Leipsic Mr. De Grimm started the German Puck in 1873, and in 1879 went to Paris and did good work on the Ecole des Beaux Arts, with Gerome and Bouguereau. He started the Club Almanach in Paris, where he resided as correspondent of the London Graphic and the London Vanity Fair, using the signature of Nemo, and edited the royalistic Parisian Le Triboulet. During this period De Grimm practiced painting and drawing, and exhibited with considerable success in Paris Salon pictures in and water. He came to New York in 1884, and at once found profitable employment. His sketches were published in the leading papers of the country and attracted wide attention. A few months ago Mrs. De Grimm died suddenly under distressing cir-cumstances, and Baron De Grimm suffered a shock at that time from which he never entirely recovered. FIVE CHILDREN SUFFOCATED.
